

BOSTON UNIVERSITY'S TRACK TEAM FALLS BEFORE COACH COHN'S STARS

Hubmen Get Away to Flying Start but Before Meet Is Half Over New Hampshire Attains Lead

STACEY OF B. U. SHOWS CLASS IN DISTANCE RUNS

"Dutch" Comes Within Six Inches of Equalling College Record in Broad Jump—Fast Time Made in Races Despite Wet Condition of Track—Captain Cotton Excels in High Jump—New England's Coming Saturday

Although Boston University got away to a flying start in the dual track meet with New Hampshire last Saturday Captain Cotton's men came up from behind in the last few events and finally triumphed over the Hubmen by a 56½ to 42½ score. The meet proved to be a very thrilling one despite the occasional fall of rain.

Captain "Cy" Cotton, "Dutch" Connor, "Al" French and Brown showed up especially well for the Blue while Stacey, Limberic, Woodward, Richards and Moody were the outstanding stars for the Bay State aggregation.

The 120-yard high hurdles was one of the prettiest events of the meet. Draper and Gunn were the two New Hampshire entries in this race and "The Twins" surely set a merry pace for B. U.'s favorite. Both men got away to a good start and at the half-way mark the wearers of the Blue were running even with Richards wearing the colors of the Hubmen. Down the track they tore and it was Draper that reached the finish line first. Gunn was not very far behind and Richards was forced to accept third place.

Captain "Cy" showed remarkable form in the high jump and when the bar reached a height of five feet four the popular all-round athlete and Menke were the only survivors. "Cy" showed exceptionally fine form and with a little more practice he should be up in the dizzy heights. Davis and Moody were tied for third place.

Coughlin Third in Mile

In the mile Stacey, an invader, ran true to form and made the distance in fast time. "Eddie" Coughlin did his best to nose out Bowen for second place but the Boston lad had a little in reserve and proved to be too much for the freshman star. "Eddie" landed an easy third.

"Dutch" easily won the shot-put giving him his third win in this event for the season. New Hampshire's hopes soared when it was announced that Coach Cohn's men captured all nine points in this event. Hobert was in his usual form and second place was his "Fat" should be an important asset to the team in the future meets. "Cy" took third with little trouble.

The 440 was one of the thrilling races of the meet and until the last few yards it was anyone's race. Harry Paine got away to a good start and at the halfway mark he was trailing on Woodward's heels. Cotton was not so fortunate on the get away and at the first turn he was in the last position. In the next hundred "Cy" brought the crowd to its feet when he waded through the entire outfit and swung into the lead. On the home stretch the terrible drive made earlier in the race told on the big fellow and he was forced to relinquish the lead. Woodward led the men in followed by Harry Paine and Robertson.

The two mile was next on the program and for seven laps the six men stuck it out together. Stacey, the crack distance star from the city of baked beans set out intent on leaving the others behind. He did not succeed in his purpose, however, for French and Higgins were hot on his trail. It was a cruel act of fate when Al tripped and fell to the ground with Higgins falling over him. The men got up and gamely set out after the leaders. The New Hampshire men fought hard but Stacey finished first although "Al" made him extend himself to capture this position. Miller followed the game New Hampshire runner to the tape.

Brown Wins Century

"Brownie" gave the spectators quite a surprise when he dashed to the fore in the century and led the other entries to the finish. "Brownie" is only a freshman and judging from his present pace he's going to equal a record or two before he lands his old sheepskin. "Bob" Perry won second and Limberic of B. U. came in third.

Richards of the visitors took first in the 220 hurdles with Gunn and Draper hot on his tracks. With ten yards to go the men were running neck and neck but the B. U. man was a little too strong on the finish.

B. U. came near cleaning up all nine points in the 880 but "Danny" Newman came through and landed third. Coughlin gave all he had but the mile had taken most of "Eddie's" energy. Moody and Bowen were the point winners for the visitors in this event.

"Bob" Perry did his best to win the 220 but Limberic crawled up to first position in the last ten yards. "Bob" got an easy second with Powers of the visitors being the other man to count.

"Dutch" pulled another surprise in the meet and on his last leap in the broad jump made a distance of 20 feet, 9 inches, but six inches behind the record. "Ted" Stafford won second and McDonald of B. U. netted third.

On next Saturday Coach Cohn will take some of his charges to the New England's which are to be held in Worcester. The coach expects his men to make a good showing against the other colleges of New England.

FRESHMEN DROP AND WIN GAMES WITH GRAY SOCKS

Defeat Academy Team on Local Diamond Last Week

TILTON VICTORIOUS, 8-4

First Time in Several Years That Yearling Outfit Has Triumphed Over Gray Stockinged Prep School Team

Captain Van Lengen of the Exeter nine pitched himself into Exeter's hall of fame by defeating the New Hampshire team 3-0 in a no-hit, no-run game, played Wednesday, May 3, on Plimpton Field, Exeter. The game itself, according to the natives of Exeter, was one of the best ever seen on that field. Fielding features prevailed all through the game. Clarke of the Freshman nine contributed three circus catches which would have meant runs had they gone by. Applin turned in two pretty catches and also caught McGlone at home plate with a wonderful throw from deep center field. Lufkin put up a nice game around the keystone sack garnering in four chances which he handled in big league style. Hatcher at third for Exeter and Walber at second furnished the best plays for the Exeter defense.

Perkins on the mound for the yearlings pitched a fine game, much better than the score indicates, allowing only six hits, striking out five of the wearers of the Gray Hose and not issuing a single base on balls. Just 27 freshmen faced Van Lengen during the nine innings and he was robbed of a no-hit, no-run, and no-man-reach first game when Brackett dropped Emerson's pop fly in the ninth inning. However Bolduc, the next man at bat, popped up an easy fly and Emerson was doubled at first.

THE TILTON GAME

The Freshmen were forced to accept a defeat from Tilton Sem. at Tilton on Saturday, May 6, to the tune of 8 to 4. During the first six innings the Freshmen held their opponents 4 to 3 and by the wonderful display of fielding it seemed as if the Frosh were scheduled for an easy victory but Tilton got the bases full and Sullivan succeeded in lining out a three bagger which started the rolling up of scores for Tilton.

Perkins pitched the first seven innings for the Frosh but he lacked the form which made the fast Exeter nine worry in the game several days previous. Emerson took the slab for the rest of the game and held the Sems down to three runs.

"Cy" Wentworth came across with his second circuit hit of the season and although New Hampshire did not have the bases full this added another badly needed score.

Applin and Clarke in the field succeeded in pulling down several baloon ascensions which would have resulted in two and three baggers. Danny Metcalf showed his usual steady playing making hit nearly every time at the bat.

McKerley, a former N. H. Freshman, twirled for Tilton and together with the heavy clouters Woods and Sullivan, won the deciding points for Tilton.

Summary: Wentworth, home run. Hicks, Woods, two base hits. Struck out by Perkins, 7; by Emerson 1; by McKerley, 11.

The New Hampshire Freshman baseball team defeated the fast Exeter nine, at Durham last Wednesday by a score of 5 to 4. This is the first time that a freshman team has defeated Exeter for several years.

Perkins on the mound for the freshmen was pitted against Patten, both pitchers going good until the latter part of the game. Exeter started the scoring in the fifth when by means of a base on balls a sacrifice and two singles sent in two runs.

The freshmen retaliated in their half of the sixth. Applin, first man up, grounded out to second base. Lufkin singled and went to third on Metcalf's single. Metcalf went to second on the throw to get Lufkin at third.

"Nig" Campbell, the next man up, connected with the ball for a two base hit scoring Metcalf and Lufkin. Davis fled out to center field. Clark, the next man up after fouling about 'steen times drove out another double to left field, scoring Campbell. Bell went out, McGlone to Field, thus ending the scoring for that frame.

In the last half of the eight the freshmen took a couple more for luck when Metcalf and Campbell walked and scored on Davis's single to left field.

Exeter started a ninth inning rally when Perkins seemed to lose the exact location of the plate walking three men in a row and by the aid of an error and a hit succeeded in pushing two runs across but not enough to win the game as the last man up fled out to Applin.

THE MAN BEHIND THE SCENES

Some people are what we might term advertisers. They have the faculty of keeping themselves before the eyes of the public in one way or another nearly all of the time. They become identified from time to time with various movements without exerting any effort themselves, but merely because of the fact that they are well known and their influence will help greatly in putting the undertaking across. They soon come to know pretty much all that is going on in the community in which they live; and, consequently, they become sources of information for reporters especially who are sent out to "get" certain stories. They love notoriety and they seem to thrive on the enjoyment they get from seeing accounts of themselves in print. The feeling that anything they do is of news value and should be in the papers immediately begins to grow; they lose all power of weighing the relative value of one bit of news from another and are highly indignant if The New Hampshire or some other paper fails to give a thorough and detailed account of their several adventures.

The quality of wanting to see oneself in print is peculiar in a large measure to the average athlete. He realizes what it means to him to be before the eyes of the public; and this becomes especially important, a passion in fact, if he contemplates taking up professional coaching after graduation. Most of us will concede that the publicity under such circumstances is vital and legitimate. But aren't we bound in all fairness to consider the rank and file of the students in this and every other college throughout the land who for some reason are unable to engage in athletics but who are showing results in other fields of undergraduate endeavor.

When we think of the individuals in all walks of life who are doing big things for their fellow men but whose efforts are rarely recognized, the field becomes absolutely unlimited. Right here on our own campus there are those who are doing much for the institution but whose achievements, for a variety of reasons, do not appear under heavy headlines either in this organ or in any of its contemporaries. Such individuals are content, apparently, to operate from behind the scenes and leave the publicity part of it to those who like that type of thing.

It is not our purpose to enumerate the several cases that could be placed in the list of those activities that call for an enormous expenditure of time and energy without a particle of compensation either in the form of an insignia or college credits. On the contrary it is to show that our system of specialization, of placing a premium on certain activities and leaving others of equal importance out of consideration, is wrong in principle and will operate to the disadvantage of this institution sooner or later. Just as soon as the student body of New Hampshire college is brought to realize that a good many are not getting what they should be getting in return for their labors, a reformation is bound to ensue and the situation will be remedied.

There is a man whom we meet daily on the campus who is a fitting example of the type of person under discussion. His name is hardly known to most of us; he has no elaborately furnished office, no stenographer or corps of assistance; and yet, since coming to Durham in the fall of the present college year, he has performed wonders in improving the physical plant of the college. This man is a doer of big things. He evidently believes in the slogan that actions speak louder than words.

He has been an inspiration to many who have come to know him. He has inspired us of The New Hampshire who have no credit or praise when the hours spent in preparing this sheet yield unfavorable results, but who receive regularly torrents of criticism from faculty and students alike whenever our efforts fail. There is a moral to be gathered from this account: let us strive to give credit equally wherever credit is due; and, in placing the credit for some achievement, let us not forget the man behind the scenes who is also, nine times out of every ten, the brains behind the movement.

"AGGIES" MAKING ELABORATE PLANS FOR ANNUAL FAIR

Big Fall Event Will Be One-Day Exhibition
WATCH THE PAPERS

Howard A. Rollins, '23, Chosen as Chairman of General Committee—Club Members Are Out to Make Exhibit Biggest and Best Ever

Plans for the second annual agricultural club fair are getting under way and according to all indications at the present time this, the fall term activity of the aggie organization, bids fair to be of large dimensions. Howard A. Rollins, '23, of West Alton, N. H., has been chosen chairman of the general committee and all who are acquainted with his unusual executive ability have not a doubt as to the unqualified success of the exhibition. This position is one of great responsibility and the choice of a responsible chairman is a feature that should not be overlooked.

The personnel of the general committee is as follows:
Animal Husbandry: Gordon Savage, '23, of Riverton, N. H.
Agronomy: Oscar H. Pearson, '23, of Stratham, N. H.

Dairy Products: Howard H. Meserve, '23, of Framingham, Massachusetts.
Dairy Animals: Wilbur Cummings, '23, of Colebrook, N. H.

Forestry: Stanley W. Hamilton, '23 of North Conway, N. H.

Greenhouse flowers and plants: Harvey Goodwin, '23 of Leominster, Massachusetts.
Correspondent to other colleges: Earle P. Farmer, '23, of Malden, Massachusetts.

Fruits and bees: Chester Randlett, '23, of Laconia, N. H.

Vegetables: George E. Middlemas, '23, of Brighton, Massachusetts.

Poultry: Harold McCullough, Federal board student, of Manchester, New Hampshire.

Decorations: Herman A. Rodenheiser, '23, of Henniker, N. H.

Midway: James P. Cassidy, '23, of Concord, N. H.

Minstrels: Harry J. Bennett, '23, of Winchester, N. H.

Publicity Committee: Arthur N. Lawrence, '23, of North Yarmouth, Maine (chairman) Alfred L. French, '23, of Contoocook, N. H., and Wesley B. Shand, '24, of Manchester, N. H.

It is the earnest desire of this general committee that the fair be a success from every point of view and they have started the wheels moving in an encouraging manner. At a meeting on last Monday evening possible dates were discussed and a definite announcement will be made later. There is an attempt being made to make next year's fair a one day exhibition instead of the afternoon function that it was this year. This would seem to be a good thing to do in view of the huge amount of work necessary to put it across and the relatively small time in which the public may view the exhibits.

There is a wealth of material available in the animal departments and it is also rumored that the poultry enthusiasts are planning a brand new show which will surpass even their prize taking collection of the year past. As was just remarked, it will be "some fair."

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY STUDENTS

Get Practical Experience in Shearing Sheep

The animal husbandry class studying sheep and swine management this year have had an opportunity to get experience that no other class at New Hampshire has ever had. The question of shearing sheep is one of the many phases of sheep management studied so far this term. Each student of the class has been required to shear one sheep under supervision. No speed records were broken and several of the sheep failed to appreciate the experience, but no doubt every man in the class has profited by the experience gained. Every man now realizes that it is not an easy job and that it would require considerable practice to become proficient.

The livestock equipment here at the college is constantly being improved and agricultural students are being given a very practical contact with the stock this year.

WOMEN STUDENTS GIVEN LETTERS

First Time in History Of Women's Athletics

FRESHMAN HONORED

Fifteen Girls Awarded Numerals—Have Taken Active Part in Class Games—College Librarian Is Speaker at Convocation Hour

For the first time in the history of Women's Athletics at New Hampshire college, girls were awarded the "NH" when, at Woman's Convocation Thursday, May 11, Helen Bartlett Wassall, Director of the Woman's Department of Physical Education, presented their letters to five girls who have played on the Varsity basketball team during the season of 1921-1922. The letters are of a distinctive style, different from the men's "NH," this distinction being the condition upon which the honor of wearing the "NH" was accorded to the women of the college.

At this time Mrs. Wassall also awarded their numerals to fifteen girls who have played in class games during the past season.

Those receiving Varsity letters were: Frances Badger, '25, Fannie M. Spinney, '22, Ida Boodey, '23, Alice Dudley, '24. Those receiving class numerals were: Juniors, Bernice Hill, Hester Bickford, Alice Saxton, Grace Flanders; sophomores, Harriet Merchant, Alice Kelsey, Dorothy Bartlett, Adeline Davis, Priscilla Williams; freshmen, Salome Colby, Eleanor Alexander, Mildred Tinker, Cleora Pierce, Dorothy Conant, Helen Hamer.

Willard P. Lewis, college librarian, was the speaker of the day. Mr. Lewis said in part:

"Lord Bacon has said, 'I hold every man to be a debtor to his profession,' and I hold with Lord Bacon. I come to present Library Work to your consideration of a profession.

"The Library is a Detective Bureau for information, and not a storehouse for unused books. The librarian must be a versatile man, and have the knowledge to answer all questions in heaven and earth. He must be the shop girl's idol, the old lady's darling, acquainted with all varieties of the genus homo. He must countenance Hell Fire and New Thought, write articles on education, and at the same time have the technical skill to handle intelligently his Bureau of Intelligent Information.

"The Librarian's compensation is the joy of service. The doctor works with people with sick bodies, the lawyer with people with sick minds, and the minister with people with sick souls, but the Librarians meet the best side of people and share in all works of civic benefit.

"A Librarian's training must include a High school education and some time at a Library school. It should include a college education and two years of regular library school. If any of you are interested, I have catalogues and all kinds of information about various schools which I should be glad to put at your disposal."

ENGLISH TEACHERS CONVENE AT DURHAM

Professor Lambeth of Dartmouth Delivers Principal Address at Meeting on May 13—Large Delegation Attend Half Day Session

The New Hampshire Association of Teachers of English met in Durham for a half-day session, Saturday morning, May 13. The Association was the guest of the college and had for its meetings classrooms reserved in the college Library.

The session opened with a short business meeting, conducted by the president, Miss Edith Swain of Laconia High School, at which time President R. D. Hetzel delivered an address of welcome in which he complimented the Association warmly on both the results of the past year's program, and the progressive nature of the program for the coming year.

The chief address was given by Prof. Lambeth, head of the Dartmouth college department of English, a paper on "A Good Preparation in English for Colleges." At the conclusion of his paper there was a five minutes' discussion, after which the session adjourned to the Commons for luncheon. Among other reports were three papers upon the same subject, "Minimal Requirements in English Composition," by representatives from the Lebanon, Exeter, and Concord High Schools. Miss Hewitt, of Portsmouth High School read a paper on "Scales and Measurements as Applied to English Composition," in which she described experiments conducted in her department in Portsmouth.

There was a large attendance of teachers from all parts of the state. The officers present were: President, Edith L. Swain of Laconia High School; First Vice President, Agnes L. Gardner of the Junior High School, Nashua; Second Vice President, Clara Currier of Proctor Academy, East Andover; Third Vice President, Mildred Flynn, of Dover High School; Secretary-Treasurer, Minna Boomer, of Portsmouth High School; Librarian, Francis P. Clayton, Assistant Superintendent, Concord. The Executive committee includes all the officers and Dr. Alfred E. Richards of New Hampshire College, Blanche C. Butterfield, of the Berlin High School, and Thomas K. Fisher of St. Paul's School, Concord.

Benjamin G. Lamme

VISITORS at the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893, saw the first extensive use of alternating current ever undertaken, when Westinghouse lighted the entire grounds with this type of current. This achievement marked the beginning of the commercial development of alternating current for power purposes, and brought the induction motor into a prominence which it has never since relinquished. Great and rapid have been the developments since that day, but the most impressive aspect of this progress is not to be found in the spectacular evidences that are visible to everyone, but rather, in the vision and fundamental soundness and determination that have been quietly at work blazing and clearing the trails which the electrical art has followed.

There is, for instance, the synchronous converter. This machine is the most efficient and economical means for changing alternating to direct current, which the operation of most street railway systems and many other processes require. Without it, the development of alternating current to its present universal usefulness would have been tremendously retarded.

The synchronous converter, in its present perfection, is but one of the great contributions to electrical progress that have been made by Benjamin G. Lamme, Chief Engineer of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company. Mr. Lamme, in 1891 when he was Chief Designer, conceived and developed the converter, which, first used commercially in connection with the great Niagara power plan, has since come to be indispensable to large producers of power.

When a man has played so vital a part in electrical progress that his knowledge and vision have contributed to practically every forward engineering step, it is perhaps misleading to attempt to identify him particularly with any one development. His work on the induction motor, the turbo generator, the single-phase railway motor, and the synchronous converter is but typical of the constructive ability which Mr. Lamme has brought to bear on practically every phase of electrical development.

A man of foresight, visioning the alternatives in a problem as well as its hoped-for results. A man whose mind combines great power of analysis with the gift of imagination. A prolific technical writer, whose style is unequalled in clearness and simplicity of expression. Few engineers so thoroughly predetermine the results they actually achieve. Few men capitalize their experiences so completely. And few indeed have at once his thorough technical equipment, his commercial understanding, and his broad human interests.

An institution which has built its success largely on engineering achievement pays Benjamin G. Lamme affectionate loyalty and respect. The young engineer on his first job, as well as the most seasoned co-worker, finds in him understanding, sympathy, wise counsel, and a conscience; to all of which his associates, in preparing this article, are proud to bear witness.

Business Building

THE selling of commodities is fundamental in every business, and selling life insurance affords the maximum of satisfaction and remuneration. For the life insurance salesman is a business builder and finds innumerable ways to serve the community and make himself indispensable in the conduct of modern affairs.

The life insurance salesman is not only a business builder but he is in business for himself, creating a competence permanent and continuous. It is the best paid work for those who are ambitious and willing to work, and who have the character and stamina necessary to stamp their individuality upon the business and on their community.

The traditions and practices of the JOHN HANCOCK are such that the college graduate can take a peculiar pride in representing this company. You are liable to remain in the business you enter on leaving college. Before making a definite decision inquire into life insurance as a career. Write, "Agency Department."

VARSITY TEAM LOSES GAMES BY NARROW MARGIN

Play Errorless Ball at Lewiston Against Bates

FOUR GAMES IN MAINE

Meet Champion Bowdoin Machine at Brunswick—"Comedy of Errors" with Colby Nine—K. of C. Victorious

The New Hampshire Varsity Baseball team, although it made 43 hits for 24 runs in the four games last week, failed to win a contest. Three of the games were lost by the margin of a single run.

The first was played in Lewiston, on Wednesday, May 10, against Bates and ended in a 5-4 score against New Hampshire. That "Lady Luck" was far away from the New Hampshire bench can be seen by the fact that we made eight hits and no errors against nine hits and eight errors for the Bates aggregation. The return game will be played Wednesday and the boys are out to wipe away the sting of the defeat.

THE BOWDOIN GAME

On Thursday, the 11th, New Hampshire continued its losing streak by losing to the superior Bowdoin team by a score of 11 to 3. Cronin pitched a good game for the varsity against a heavy hitting team and if he had been given errorless support the score would not have had such a disastrous appearance.

COLBY VS. N. H. C.

On May 13 New Hampshire came out one run behind Colby in a "Comedy of Errors." Sixteen errors and 24 hits were made, enough to win and loose three or four ordinary ball games.

For New Hampshire "Cherub" Smith was the leading hitter collecting three hits out of four times up. L. Fernald with two out of three times up was the other man who helped pile up the runs for New Hampshire.

Royal for Colby was easily the star of the game with three hits including a home run.

LOSE AT PORTLAND

Portland K. of C. were very lucky indeed to get away with the game Saturday. New Hampshire started right at the beginning and scored six runs in the first inning but their energy was spent and during the rest of the game could put across only one run.

The game was one of heavy hitting and ten doubles were made. Three of these counted for us but seven counted the other way. The feature of the game was a fast double play, following a circus catch and a perfect peg home by Brown to Smith who got the man at the plate.

MEMBERS FACULTY CLUB HOLD LADIES' NIGHT AT OPENING

Interesting Program Presented by Instructional Staff on Evening of Formal Dedication of New Club Rooms—Stellar Performers Are Unearthed

The Faculty club celebrated the opening of the new clubrooms in the former "Y" hut by a Ladies' Night for which a dramatic and musical program, including a new play "City Rubes" by Henry B. Stevens, of the Extension Service, was presented.

Dr. A. E. Richards, as a Boston Irishman, and Professor Harold H. Scudder, as a New York Jew, shared honors in "City Rubes," which was presented on this occasion for the first time on any stage, and by the cast of faculty players. The painful experiences of the Jew and the Irishman who terminated their unlucky agricultural career in the bee hives forms the plot of this one-act play.

The scene is laid in the back yard of the Gorham farm, where the real farmer, his daughter, and the real hired man witness the adventures of the two prospective hired men. The cast was as follows: Patrick James Murphy, a bold Bostonian, A. E. Richards; Isidore Konwitz, a timorous New Yorker, H. H. Scudder; Alice Gorham, a farmer's daughter, Helen Bartlett Wassall; John Trumbull, a real hired man, J. C. Kendall; Roscoe Gorham, owner of the farm, J. M. Fuller.

Mrs. H. H. Scudder starred in "The Florist Shop," a one-act play by Winifred Hawkrig from "The Forty-Seven Work Show," of Professor Baker of Harvard. The cast was as follows: Maud, Slovisky's assistant, Mrs. H. H. Scudder; Henry, the office boy, E. E. Cummings; Mr. Slovisky,

NEWSY ITEMS OF THE ALUMNI

Edgar H. Burroughs, '10, formerly Southern manager for the Ambusen Construction Company, Inc., Hydro-Electric Engineers and Constructors, of New York City, Atlanta, and Kansas City, has recently been made vice-president of the company and is now located in the main office, Grand Central Terminal Building, New York City.

The class of 1912 is making plans for a big gathering at Durham on Alumni Day when it celebrates the tenth reunion. President Tucker is making a canvas of the class to secure a full quota for the Memorial Field Fund. Five years ago on its fifth anniversary, this class presented the college with an oil painting of ex-president Gibbs, but this year it intends to contribute a 100 per cent. subscription to the Memorial Field fund. Members of the class are asked to notify H. R. Tucker, Manchester, Mass., of their plans to attend the reunion in order that proper arrangements may be made.

The leading article in the June number of "Education," "Biology, its Educational Value Socially Considered," was written by John Page, '08. Mr. Page is in the Harvard Graduate School of Education, working for an advanced degree.

Goldie Basch, '17, is doing social work in Boston, Mass.

Dorothy Thompson, ex-'23, is Secretary to the Superintendent of Schools, Athol, Mass.

Mary A. Worcester, '17, is instructor in clothing and textiles at Kansas State Agricultural college, Manhattan, Kansas.

Stephen DeMeritt, '12, and Mrs. Croghan (nee Margaret DeMeritt, '11) were in Durham last week-end visiting their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth DeMeritt.

The following alumni were in Durham last week-end: Howard Burpee, '21, Don Melville, '20, Goldie Basch, '17, Celia Gardiner, '20, Grace Wallace, '20, Doris Binks, '20, Dorothy Thompson, ex-'23, Rachael Bugbee, '21, Martha Hoitt, '18, Caroline Hoitt, '15, Alice Hoitt Garland, '15, Delia Langley, '21, Ada Langley, '19, Mary Gerrish, '21, Sally Sanders Barnwell, ex-'21, Clarence L. ## TWO MORE CLASSES IN 100 PC. DIVISION

'72 and 2-Yr. '03 Exceed Quotas in Memorial Field Campaign—Several Others Near Mark—Twenty-one Alumni Become "Stick-to-it-ers"

Two more classes won the distinction of 100 per cent. membership in the Memorial Field campaign last week. These were the classes of 1872, whose fiftieth anniversary comes this year, and the 2-year class of '03. The classes of '05, '09, '15, and '13, are now close to their quotas and are expected to go over the mark shortly.

Subscriptions from Edwin Bartlett, '72, of Walnut, Kansas, and from Harry G. Brierley, 2-yr. '03, put their classes into the honor list.

In the class of 1921 the football team headed by Tom Craig is now for the first time in the lead, shooting ahead of Anderson's track team during the last few days. However, the lead is only by a margin of $3, and Captain Anderson believes that this team will regain its lead shortly.

The books are to be held open until June 1 to receive subscriptions which will effect the final standing of the classes. Twenty-one more alumni joined the Stick-to-it club last week with additional subscriptions to complete the job. Among the new subscribers was H. N. Savage, '87, who has won numerous honors in the engineering field, and is now serving as hydraulic engineer of the City of San Diego, California.

FRESHMAN CLASS HEADS LIST OF STUDENTS DRAWING BOOKS FROM LIBRARY

One of the functions of the college library is to promote the reading of good books. The student who has acquired the reading habit during his college course has acquired a valuable ally for his future life. In this connection it is interesting to note the number of those who are using the books placed at their disposal in New Hampshire College Library. The figures given below take no account of the use of reserved books nor of the reading of books and periodicals within the library building, but are based on the records taken from the library readers cards for the college year beginning September 1921.

The first table gives the number of students drawing books from the library arranged by classes:

Senior class, 89 students or 67 per cent. of the class.

Junior class, 109 students, or 71 per cent. of the class.

Sophomore class, 145 students, or 65 percent of the class.

Freshman class, 219 students, or 60 per cent. of the class.

The second tables gives the same record arranged by college divisions:

Agriculture div., 72 students, or 54 per cent. of the division.

Arts and Science div., 376 students, or 80 per cent. of the division.

Engineering div., 114 students, or 42 per cent. of the division.

"KAMP KAMPANERS"

HAVE STARTED DRIVE

Paul Sargent, '23, Reports as Delegate from National Y. W. C. A. Conference at Hot Springs—Local Young Women's Association in Thriving Condition

The work of the "Kamp Kampanners," the progress of the song contest, and the return of the local representative from the National Y. W. C. A. Conference at Hot Springs, Arkansas, all point to the fact that the local association is unusually active this spring.

The "Kamp Kampanners" is the unique name given to a group of six or seven girls who are planning to earn a sum of money in order to pay a part of their expenses at Camp Maqua, Me., this summer. "Help us by buying our peanuts, sandwiches, chocolate and soft drinks," is their cry on the campus.

Everyone is urged to submit a song for the Song Contest. An envelope is to be placed on the Y. W. C. A. bulletin board to receive contributions. It is not necessary for the modest ones to sign their names. At the meeting on May 22 the songs will be looked over and judged. The song considered the best will be sung by the New Hampshire delegate at the Y. W. C. A. Student Conference at camp Maqua the last of June.

At the regular meeting on Monday evening, May 8, Pearl Sargent, '23, representative to the national Y. W. C. A. Conference at Hot Springs, Arkansas, gave the report of her trip. She interested a large group of girls with her stories of the actual conference and the people whom she met. In closing she gave each member of the cabinet a watchword.

INTERFRAT BASEBALL NOW IN FULL SWING

Much "Crack" Material Is to Be Found Among Sun-up and Sunset Leagues—Games Comprised Mostly of Pitcher's Battles

Lamba Chi Alpha defeated Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon beat Delta Pi Epsilon and Kappa Sigma won over Phi Mu Delta in interfraternity baseball games played during the past week.

The Kappa Sigma and Phi Mu Delta game ended with "Emma" Spinney's stars on the long end of a 2 to 1 score. The playing of both teams was exceedingly fast as the score indicates. The inability of the Phi Mu Delta players to solve Spinney's curves proved their downfall. Keenan, the loosing pitcher, pitched good ball in all except one inning. "Les" Bell caught a fine game for the winners and Friberg and Elmer Scott also turned in a good day's work. Shepard and Hammersley featured for the Phi Mu Delta team.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon team with Christensen in the box, proved too fast for the Delta Pi Epsilon team and the S. A. E. team won 11 to 3. The winners hit everything that Smith threw up to them. Farmer and Callahan hit especially well for the winners. "Bob" Marsh played well for the losers.

"Emma" Spinney was unable to accomplish the "Iron Man" stunt of pitching two games in the same day and as a result the Lambda Chi Alpha team won 8 to 3. Ramsey, the freshman pitcher of the Lambda Chi Alpha team pitched an excellent game and was never in danger throughout the game. The Kappa infield was somewhat broken up as Marsh, the heavy hitting first baseman, was out of town on official business. "Les" Bell, "Doc" Newell and "Dannie" Byrne were the Kappa stars while Woodward, Jenness, Ball and Ramsey were the outstanding Lambda Chi Alpha players.

Movable schools for the children of migratory laborers in the San Joaquin Valley of California are conducted by the state board of education. The schools move from place to place with the laborers as these keep up with the harvest.
